tance Balloon Record

LEFT BERLIN ON MONDAY

Their Bodies Were Found To-day in the Wreckage of Their Balloon in Austria-Hungary, 500 Miles from Their Starting Point.

Berlin, Germany, Nov. 26.—The bodies of Hugo Franke and Dr. Brönchmann, members of the Berlin Aero club, were found in the wreckage of their balloon to-day in the southern part of Austria-Hungary, at a place five hundred miles from Berlin. The two men left this city last Monday, with a view to making a long-distance balloon record. It is believed that the big gas bag exploded, causing the balloon to fall from a great height and causing the death of its occupants.

PROMISES HIS AID.

General F. D. Grant Would Help Army
Temperance More.

Washington, Nov. 26.—"I shall cheerfully aid you in your proposed temperance movement in the army," promises Gen. Frederick D. Grant, in command of the department of the Great Lakes with headquarters at Chicago, in a letter addressed to the Rev. Wilbur F. Crafts, of this city, superintendent of the international reform bureau. The letter was made public last night.

An invitation recently was sent to General Grant by Dr. Crafts inviting him to address a meeting to be held here on December 12 next, to inaugurate a movement looking to the establishment of a total abstinence association in the United States army and navy.

In his communication General Grant expresses regret at his inability to be present, but declares, according to the Rev. Crafts, that he is "cordially in favor of the proposition."

"The Rate Went Up."

The Barre Times says that it will be necessary to have a formal complaint against express companies for making exorbitant charges put before the public service commission before that board can take cognizance of it. The board sits as a court, not as a prosecutor, and cannot directly initiate proceedings; at least, such a step would be considered unusual. As the state board only has jurisdiction over business beginning and ending within Vermont, it would not amount to a great deal toward correcting the worst abuses, though a lower small parcel rate for short hauls certainly would be some advantage. It costs as much now to ship a small bundle between two adjoining stations as it does through to Boston. The chief abuse, however, is the advance charge, or double extortion. When ever there is a chance for two or more express companies to get a bite, they each take a mouthful, charging as much as they would to carry the parcel through over their own lines, with the result that the shipper or consignee finds the multiple rate piled up against him. The railroads have to toe the mark, but the express companies seem to be a law unto themselves, with little restriction or regulation. The reason for this is probably that the extortions come scattered along in a small way among individuals. There is plenty of kicking over it, but nobody feels aggrieved quite enough to take the matter up. When it is done, the express companies will put up a hard-luck story, as corporations always do when they get yanked. We recall a few years ago, when a bill making a slight increase in their tax rate was before a legislative committee hearing, the express companies, by officials and attorneys, came to Montpelier in large numbers. They showed how much money they were actually losing by doing business with such a backwood district as Vermont. Finally one member of the committee asked why they didn't draw out. No answer. Another casually inquired how the company's stock was quoted in the market. More silence. The rate went up. Randolph Herald and News.

BAD DAY FOR FOOTBALL.

Many Serious Accidents on Several Fields
Yesterday.

Springfield, Ohio, Nov. 26.—During the Otterbein-Wittenberg football game yesterday, Quarterback Cole of the Wittenberg team was seriously injured and carried from the field unconscious. In an attempt to tackle one of the Otterbein players, Cole fell and was kicked on the head by the runner. He suffered a concussion of the brain and his skull was fractured. His spinal column was also injured. He has recovered consciousness but his recovery is doubtful. Lynchburg, Va., Nov. 26.—Cadet Fred Water of Missouri, Mont., center of the Virginia Military Institute football eleven, was unconscious for several hours here as a result of injuries received in the game here yesterday with Davidson (N. C.) college. At 10:30 last night he regained consciousness and it is thought he is doing well. Webster is about 20 years old and is a first year cadet. Wells, Wash., Nov. 26.—Five football players were injured, two seriously, yesterday in a game between Washington state college and Whitman college. Clarence Morrow, right guard for Whitman, sustained three broken ribs and William Clements, Whitman's center, was unconscious for five hours from a blow on the head. He is reported to be in a critical condition.

YOUNG GOTCH WINNER.

Keene, N. H., Nov. 26.—Wrestling matches held in Armory hall yesterday afternoon attracted a large crowd. Young Gotch of this city was awarded two falls over Nicolo Romano of Fall River, Mass., the 145-lb. Italian champion, catch-as-can style. Young Gotch secured first fall in 9 minutes and 50 seconds with a full body hold.

In the second bout, Fritz Hanson of Claremont, world's welterweight champion, took on Ed Bushey of Canada and Dick Moore of this city. The conditions provided that he was to throw each man in one hour or lose the match, or if either of his opponents secured a fall he would lose the victory. Hanson threw Bushey in 2 minutes and 30 seconds, and Moore in 20 minutes and 30 seconds.

Following the match between Romano and Gotch, Romano stated that he had no time to train for the contest, and offered to meet Gotch at some future date for a side bet of $100. Gotch accepted.

AQUEDUCT UNDER NEW YORK.

Most Remarkable Piece of Engineering Work.

New York, Nov. 26.—Proposals for one of the most remarkable pieces of engineering work ever undertaken were placed before the New York board of estimate yesterday. The plans involve the expenditure of nearly $50,000,000 for the building of a great subterranean aqueduct 300 feet below the streets of the city for the purpose of distributing the water supply which in a few years will be available from the great Catskill reservoir.

The aqueduct as proposed, which will be 14 feet in diameter for the greater part of its 20-mile stretch, will be bored through solid rock running from the city's northern limits southward under Central Park and beneath the great business districts of lower Manhattan, thence under East river, to Brooklyn, Williamsburg, Queens and Staten Island. The present local systems of water mains would be connected with the new aqueduct.

FIVE OF PARTY DROWNED.

Were Taking Cruise in Launch on Way to Wedding.

Muskegon, Mich., Nov. 26.—Five persons were drowned in Muskegon lake yesterday afternoon, when the pleasure launch Olga, carrying a party of nine young people, capsized as the result of a panic following a gasoline explosion. Four of those who lost their lives were members of one family.

The dead are: Oscar Carlson, aged 28; Hulda Carlson, 24; Annan Carlson, 20; Jennie Carlson, 18; Anna Saunders. The rescued are: Ernest Carlson, Anna Carlson, Arthur Pierson and Nels Nelson, owner of the boat.

The party started out to attend a wedding on the north side of the lake and decided to take a short cruise before going to the festivities. They encircled the lake and were within 150 feet of the north landing, when in some manner some gasoline exploded. The girls became panic stricken, thinking that the boat would catch fire.

They rushed to the stern of the boat, which was only about 18 feet long, causing it to capsize. Four of the young people succeeded in climbing up the upturned boat and hung on until rescued. The others sank at once. The bodies were all recovered within an hour of the accident.

A Growing Town.

Middlebury, our sister collegiate town, is growing. The Register announces that plans are already in the making for two new business blocks to be erected in Middlebury as soon as the first is out of the ground next spring. The Register then goes on: "These, with the completion of a substantial addition to our biggest business building and the construction of a new women's dormitory at Middlebury college, will make things lively. Watch us grow; or rather watch us continue to grow. Two new business blocks, a factory for handling milk and the erection of some private residences, the past summer, is not a bad record, and the activity in this line the coming season promises to eclipse even that. Yes, thank you, Middlebury is in a very healthy condition, physically, industrially and in every other way. Pretty good place to live in."

Middlebury is to be congratulated and it is to be congratulated on the citizenship to which its growth is due. In a town which contains such men as President Thomas, who has infused new life into its college, and Col. Battell, whose time, thought and money are so largely devoted to local interests, and other public-spirited citizens, things could not fail to happen.—Burlington News.

Tony Trom, an Italian at work on the foundation for the new yarn mill in Winoski, broke a bone in his foot and dislocated another last Tuesday.

ENGINEER'S DEATH
HALTED FAST TRAINAccording to New York Law Body
Couldn't Be Removed and New Engine Had to Be Secured.

Burlington, Nov. 26.—As the result of the storm, combined with one or two accidents, most of the trains into this city were off schedule time yesterday. The Rutland railroad came in for the brunt of the trouble but a few of the Central Vermont trains were behind time. The delay reached all the way from three hours and a half down. The train due here at one o'clock in the afternoon was two hours late, owing to an accident which resulted in the death of its engineer. A short distance north of Troy, N. Y. The train was going at a high rate of speed in an effort to make up lost time when the engineer went back to look into the water tank to ascertain if the water supply was holding out. He was on the pile of coal in the tender and as he stood up, after bending over, he was swept from the train by a bridge, which struck him on the head. His head was nearly severed from his body. This took place in New York state and as the laws there forbid the removal of a body, after a death has occurred by violent means before the arrival of a coroner, the engine was kept on the scene of the accident. This necessitated sending to Rutland for another engine.

INCREASE CAPITAL STOCK.

Is Wish of Corry-Deavitt-Frost Company—Hearing December 8.

Newport, Nov. 26.—Rufus W. Spear, clerk of the public service commission, makes public the following dates for hearings: On December 7, the commission will be at Woodstock for an adjourned session for resuming business. A. L. Torrey is to be the local manager and will have general supervision of the work. Mrs. Emma West is to be the fore lady. The concern has sufficient orders to warrant working the factory to its full capacity, which means that employment will be furnished to some sixty girls.

GOOD FOR WATERBURY.

Burns Underwear Factory to Resume
Next Monday.

Waterbury, Nov. 26.—The William H. Burns company of Worcester, Mass., is to re-open its branch underwear factory in this place next Monday. Nelson Bartlett, one of the members of the company, is in town to complete the arrangements for resuming business. A. L. Torrey is to be the local manager and will have general supervision of the work. Mrs. Emma West is to be the fore lady. The concern has sufficient orders to warrant working the factory to its full capacity, which means that employment will be furnished to some sixty girls.

The business men of the place, especially the dry goods merchants, are much elated over the fact that the factory is going to start and all are acting as agents to secure all the help the company desires. Already many of the former employees have sent in applications for work.

RUTLAND BANKS MAY MERGE.

Rutland County National and Baxter
National Banks.

Rutland, Nov. 26.—Unless something unforeseen occurs, the Rutland County National bank and the Baxter National bank will be consolidated in the near future. Plans for the proposed consolidation are already under way and the details agreed upon, but it is necessary to advertise the proposed merger and submit it to a vote of the stockholders of both banks. It is probable, however, that the plans will be approved as it is considered that the proposition would prove advantageous to both banks. It has been the feeling here for some time that there have been too many banks in Rutland, when the amount of capital furnished, and the business involved are taken into consideration. The proposed consolidation is in line with similar action on the part of Boston and New York financial institutions.

MOST OF FAMILY KILLED.

Automobile and Trolley Car Collided
Near Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 26.—Nicholas Jacobs, a real estate dealer, his two daughters and his two sons are dead, and Mrs. Jacobs and her two months old baby are dying as the result of a collision last night between an automobile in which they were riding and a trolley car on the Los Angeles & Santa Ana line, six miles from Los Angeles. Two other sons of Jacobs, Peter and John, and Miss Josephine Solon, 19 years old, jumped from the automobile and escaped with slight injuries.

While an electric car in which the injured persons and the bodies of those killed had been placed was coming to Los Angeles it collided with a car on the Central avenue line at South and Central avenues in Los Angeles and eight other persons were injured, some seriously.

HAD TO WALK,
SHOT HIMSELFHubert Bell, Aged 21, A Suicide at Lunenburg

WAS SON OF A MERCHANT

He and Brother Were Driving Up Steep
Hill and Elder Bell Made Hubert Get Out and Walk to Ease Up the Horse's Load.

St. Johnsbury, Nov. 26.—Hubert Bell, son of a prominent merchant at Lunenburg, committed suicide late last night, while on the way to his home, as the result of irritation over his older brother's refusal to let him ride up a steep hill. This is the fourth suicide in northeastern Vermont within five weeks, the others being J. Vernon Dutton and Charles H. Stewart at Hardwick and Miss Rowena Clark at Lyndonville.

The two Bell brothers and Robert Bell were driving to their homes at about half past nine o'clock, and when they came to a steep hill the older Bell, Hubert, told Hubert to get out and walk. After considerable grumbling, Hubert got out and started to walk up the hill with Bell, falling in behind the team. Young Bell continued to protest against what he considered the injustice of his being made to walk and made so much noise about it that Bell did not dare if he didn't keep still, he (Bell) would hurry ahead and tell the elder Bell.

"Go ahead and tell him, if you want to; I ain't here when he comes back," young Bell is declared to have remarked, as Bell started to carry out his purpose. With that remark, Hubert pulled out a revolver and, holding it to his right temple, pulled the trigger, dropping dead almost instantly. Dr. Brighting was summoned as soon as possible, but he found the young man to be dead.

Hubert was 21 years of age and was employed as clerk in the store of Franklin Bell & Son of Lunenburg, the junior member of the firm being James Bell, who was present at the time of the suicide. It is said that young Bell was in an intoxicated condition at the time.

TWO HARDWICK SUICIDES.

Stewart May Have Had Knowledge of
J. V. Dutton's Rebating.

The St. Johnsbury Caledonian furmishes a possible explanation of the suicide of J. Vernon Dutton and Charles H. Stewart at Hardwick, within five weeks of each other, as follows:

"The fact that young Stewart was employed in the same railroad office as Mr. Dutton at once gave rise to rumors that he had been involved with Mr. Dutton in the acceptance of rebates received from outside railroads for traffic sent them from the Hardwick & Woodbury railroad, a practice which Dutton had carried on without the knowledge of the other railroad officials. The fact that the interstate commerce commission's representative had just completed the investigation of Mr. Dutton's irregularities also strengthened the rumor. People in position to know of the affairs of the road, however, do not credit this theory, as they say that while Stewart was a clerk in the freight office, he was not in a position where he could know or be implicated in Mr. Dutton's business. Young Stewart was a friend of Mr. Dutton's, and the latter had much influence over him, consequently Dutton's tragic death bore heavily upon him."

SOLDIERS GUARD
MINE'S MOUTHTo Prevent Enraged People from Blowing Up the Upper Works of the Cherry Mine, Where 200 Bodies
Are Being Cremated.

Cherry, Ill., Nov. 26.—Placing a double guard of militia around the mouth of the mine, where two hundred bodies are being cremated, has not lessened the danger of an attempt to destroy the upper works of the mine with dynamite. It was hoped by the coal company that the temper of the miners had subsided sufficiently to permit sending home the troops, but the conditions are such that the troops are liable to remain here indefinitely. The $700,000 shaft is likely never to be worked again, as the miners say it is "hoodooed."

CONDUCTOR KILLED TWO.

Lillian Baker and William E. Moore
Murdered by Man, Later Arrested.

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 26.—J. T. Lowrey, a street car conductor, shot and killed Lillian Baker and William E. Moore in a crowded street car to-day. A panic followed, and Lowrey was arrested.

Mead and the Legislature.

Battle-scarred he may be getting but his candidacy goes marching on. Every once in a while he has to stop to take a fall out of some would-be political innocent, but these delays merely serve as breathing spells for Uncle John Abner Mead. We hold no brief for the lieutenant-governor and are not yet sure he is the man of our choice, but it does please us to see the progress his candidacy is making in view of the fact that almost all the machine politicians are lining up against him. We would suggest, however, that the man from Rutland place a restraining hand on those over-zealous newspaper supporters who are trying to make capital out of his connection with the last legislature. It can't be done.—Brattleboro Reformer.

REASONS FOR THANKSGIVING.

Told About by Rev. W. E. Braisted at Union Service Yesterday.

Special Thanksgiving services were held at the Universalist church yesterday morning, all the Protestant churches joining in the service. The service was opened with a short prayer by Rev. G. W. Winch of Barre Town, after which Rev. W. J. M. Beattie, rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, read the governor's Thanksgiving proclamation. The scripture reading was by Rev. J. D. MacKenzie, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and Rev. E. O. Thayer, pastor of the Methodist church, offered prayer. The sermon was delivered by Rev. W. E. Braisted, pastor of the First Baptist church.

Mr. Braisted took his text from Proverbs 14:34: "Righteousness exalteth the nation, but sin is a reproach to any people." The speaker said that he wished that we might look on the great eternal principles of righteousness, as we looked upon the fundamental principles of other affairs. He said that one great teacher has said that no nation has ever fallen because of poverty, but because of unrighteousness. The speaker cited as examples Egypt and Babylon, and gave as the reason of their fall four words—prosperity, pride, power and profligacy. Greece, too, is a thing of the past, and Italy is but the specter of its wonder of the past.

It was 134 years ago when this nation was born, and it has swept on, until now its domains are so large that we can watch the sun as it sweeps around the entire world. The speaker stated that we have become the leading nation of the world, and although there are in the country only one twenty-second part of the total population, yet it supplies the world with 45 per cent of its most important necessities of life. We have reason as Christian men and women to thank God with a tremendous thankfulness.

Mr. Braisted then mentioned some of the things in the nation which would tend to its downfall unless they were checked. Among them were the divorce evil, the liquor traffic and the white slave trade. "These things shall not exist. We must face the truth and demand a remedy. We are waking up and demanding that these things shall stop, and we thank God that the day is coming when they will stop, and that we can have a small part in doing it."

In closing, he spoke of the large amount of unnecessary illness in the country, and of the multitudes of children who die before the age of two years, when their lives might be saved. He said that steps were being taken to ameliorate this condition, and for this we also have reason to be thankful to God.

Special music was given during the service by a quartet, composed of Mrs. M. L. Lamb, Miss Maude Harris, W. D. Kipper and William Ingles.

REFERRED TO
NAT'L ASS'NManufacturers to Submit Case to Executives

OF MFRS. AND THE UNIONS

Two Committees May Get Together by Monday and Straighten Out the Tangle in the Granite Industry of This County.

As the result of Wednesday afternoon's meeting of the Barre Granite Manufacturers' association, the strike situation in Northfield and the lockout situation in Barre and other towns were referred to the executive committee of the National Association of Granite Industries to take up with the executive council of the G. C. I. A. and see if a settlement cannot be effected. In accord with this action, word was sent to National Secretary Robert D. Smith on Wednesday evening, asking him to arrange with Secretary Duncan of the G. C. I. A. a meeting of the two committees. Word was received from Boston this afternoon that the committees will meet Monday forenoon at 10 o'clock in Boston.

Barre is represented on the national executive committee by William Barclay of Barclay Bros. The other members of the committee are Seward W. Jones of Boston, William Booth of New York city, C. Harry Rogers of Rockport, Alfred G. Diack of Quincy, David L. McLaren of Westley, John Q. A. Field of Quincy and Robert D. Smith, secretary.

At Wednesday's meeting, William Marr, president of the Barre association, was selected to attend the meeting of the two associations and present the manufacturers' side of the case.

The members of the executive council of the G. C. I. A. are Thomas Johnston, president, M. C. Treacy, Angus Kerr, John Bryan, Joseph Kavanaugh, John O. Moyle and James Dumeau, secretary. It is hoped the two bodies will be able to straighten out the tangle at this meeting.

ONE SHED WORKING.

The Waterbury Record This week
says:

"The Union Granite company, which plant was closed down with the others, resumed work this (Tuesday) morning, and all the men who are members of the company are at work in the shed to-day. None but members of the corporation are given employment."

"Owners of granite plants are allowed to work during a strike or lockout, thus the reason why work was resumed by the Union Granite company this morning. The company has a sufficient amount of rough stock on hand to furnish employment for several weeks. This will help the men if the quarry people refuse to fill orders."
